

Sellers

Treadstone Realty knows how intimidating it can be to sell your home. You are exchanging fond memories of your home for new beginnings, and are worried about obtaining answers to many questions: What is the value of my home? Will I find the right buyer? Will the house sell quickly? Knowing your concerns, we have designed the Sellers page to help ease this transition, and make the selling process as seamless and pleasant as possible. Here you will find a Market Analysis of your home, data on subdivision trends, recent sales in your neighborhood, and tools to help you set the right price. You will also find web links dedicated to the area, including information regarding taxes and school districts - information that will be important to your future buyers. In addition, you will also find information about Relocation, whether across the country or just across town. We can assist you in purchasing a new home in the Greater Houston area, or we can refer you to other Realtors® in other parts of the state and country. We appreciate you considering Treadstone Realty, and please return often, as information is updated daily. If you would like to contact one of our Realtors®, we would be delighted to hear from you.
